3. A BRIEF GENERAL OVERVIEW OF RECENT MAJOR DEVELOPMENTS:

The World Heritage certificates-conferring ceremony was held at the Ministry of Foreign Affairs on March 6, 2018, after the stone stele monument for "Mongolian Tanjur", along with other two Mongolian heritages had been included in the UNESCO`s World Heritage List in 2017. The stone stele monument for "Mongolian Tanjur" preserved in the National Library of Mongolia was inscribed as world`s documentary heritage of UNESCO on October 30, 2017. The stone stele was set up in 1929 to commemorate the arrival of 226 volumes of Tanjur sutra in Ulan Bator from Inner Mongolia in 1925 and regarded as the only monument in the world, fully dedicated to a single book.

4. NEW DEVELOPMENTS IN BUILDING AND MANAGING COLLECTIONS:

In 2016 the process of adaptation of KOHA program launched in National Library of Mongolia. Now all printed books in Mongolian can be searched using online catalog. Currently data input works of European printed books are on development stage.

5. NOTES ON YOUR COLLABORATION WITH OTHER LIBRARIES, ARCHIVES AND MUSEUMS IN YOUR COUNTRY:

Also, the Library provides over 1500 libraries established in 21 provinces of Mongolia with library professional methodology, organizes many advanced professional trainings for rural librarians and sent its specialists to libraries in the countryside to organize and lead trainings.

6. NOTES ON INTERNATIONAL COLLABORATION:

National Library of Mongolia has book exchange programs in place with over 100 libraries in 70 countries.

In 1999-2010 vast collection of Tibetan manuscripts composed by Tsongkhapa, Khedrubje, Gyeltsabje and several reincarnations of Dalai lama were catalogued and digitilised by ACIP /Asian Classics Input Project/. Also in accordance with bilateral negotiations of Indian and Mongolian Governments, in 2006-2008 a project have been successfully implemented to digitize 296 volumes of Mongol Kanjur (totally 30620 pages), 338 volumes of so called Beijing Tanjur and Kanjur (totally 293680) with financial assistance from Indian Government. Currently due to the implementation of two projects about 20 percent of the Tibetan manuscript collection can be searched on line.
